LECTURES: Dates: Tuesday, March 15 through Thursday April 7, 2022. The lectures will be delivered via zoom (live) (Time: 8:30 AM - 10 AM). Zoom link: https://ufl.zoom.us/j/99225364465?pwd=Rms1NDhhNXZTT2R4anRGdERFUDJaQT09. In addition, lectures will be recorded and available at Canvas for students who could not attend in person. Ph.D. students are encouraged to attend the class in person. In the evening (6-7 pm) of Tuesday in the 2nd week (March 22) or 4th week (April 5), there will be an open discussion period (one hour) led by Dr. Larkin and Dr. Wang, respectively, to facilitate the learning. The open discussion section will be recorded for students who cannot attend in person.

COURSE OBJECTIVES:

• This class makes the assumption that students possess a limited understanding of immunology. As such, a foundational immunological background will be developed.
• To develop the concepts and understand the principles of bacterial virulence, host defense to microbial invasion and host-bacteria interactions.
• To develop the concepts and skills required to understand and critically evaluate research that addresses molecular and cellular biology events involved in host defense to microbial pathogens and virulence mechanism of bacterial pathogens.

STUDENT RESPONSIBILITIES:
Students are required to take class online or watch the recorded lectures. Students need to complete the assignments on canvas. Students will be responsible for reading literature referenced in class. Students need to take the final exam. Final exam will consist of materials in lectures and assigned readings.

Grade:
Grades will be assigned based on completion of 2 assignments each worth 100 pts of the grade for a total of 200 pts (67% of grade), and a final exam worth 100 pts (33% of grade).

Final grades will be based on the following performance standard:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Percentage</th>

<tbody>
<tr>
<td>90 - 100 %</td>

Assignments:
Two assignments will be assigned for this course: One each by Drs. Larkin (Assignment 1) and Wang (Assignment 2). Assignments will be located within Canvas under the tab “Assignments.” The Due dates are below:

March 23\textsuperscript{th} @ 6pm EST (Dr. Larkin)
April 4\textsuperscript{th} @ 6pm EST (Dr. Wang)

Course Final Exam: April 7, 2022 (6 am-10 pm)

The final exam will be administered through Canvas with proctored through Honor-lock. Exam questions will be short essays focused on lectures and main topics covered in this course. The duration of the final exam will be 2 hours. Please familiarize yourself with Honor-lock by conducting practice assignment.

TEACHER EVALUATION:

Please conduct on-line teacher evaluation and provide feedbacks and suggestions for the course on April 6. 10-15 minutes are sufficient for the evaluation. The website for the online teacher evaluation is: evaluations.ufl.edu
